ABOUT THE SOUNDWICH MAN

The Soundwich Man was founded to talk about problems ordinary people have in their lives. We are open to breaking taboos, and talking about serious and non-serious things, trivial and non-trivial problems in an abstract and humoristic ways. Life doesn't have too much sense, and can be quite boring and miserable if you take it too seriously, so the best way to confront it is with jokes and humour.

YOUR GREATEST ACHIEVEMENT?

Releasing my first song on streaming platforms

YOUR DREAM CONCERT?

It's in a small jazz club, I'm playing with Miles Davis - Jew's harp, Rahsaan Roland Kirk - on the flute, but also emitting some random noises, and Chad Kroeger singing. We're playing a bossa nova cover of "Barbie Girl", but we've added some secret chords here and there in order to please the lord.

LIFE BEFORE THIS PROJECT?

Ran live sound at a music venue and worked at Spotify. I also played in bands like Black Iguana, Seinuk Quartet, Groove Society, Alien Population, Kasia Tontor and Hummy Howls. Howls. www.facebook.com/hummyhowls/
